

Civil Engineering Students: Receive Arkansas Good Roads Scholarships

Andrew Hindman, Colton Horn, and Elkanah Knowles have been selected as 2016 Arkansas Good Roads scholarship recipients. The organization grants scholarships to outstanding civil engineering students in their junior or senior year. Recipients of the scholarship commit to work in the transportation field in Arkansas for a minimum of one year after graduation. The organization creates awareness of the benefits of improving roads, bridges, and other key transportation infrastructure in Arkansas by researching, evaluating and publicizing data focused on transportation. "The Department of Civil Engineering is very thankful for the continued support from the Arkansas Good Roads Transportation Council. We truly appreciate their investment in our students and in their future careers" said Micah Hale, head of the department of civil engineering.

Recipients from left to right: Andrew Hindman, Colton Horn, and Elkanah Knowles.